ALAMEDA COUNTY SCHOOL-BASED BEHAVIORAL HEALTH INITIATIVE
A CROSS-DEPARTMENTAL COLLABORATION WITHIN HEALTH CARE SERVICES AGENCY
School Based Behavioral Health (SBBH) Initiatives Background

In 2009, the Alameda County Center for Healthy Schools and Communities (CHSC) and Alameda County Behavioral Health (ACBH) launched the School-Based Behavioral Health Initiative.

Our shared mission is to strengthen and expand school-based behavioral health practice, finance, evaluation, and policy in Alameda County. In partnership with school districts and service providers, and by leveraging local, state and federal resources, the Initiative invests over $50 million annually toward school-based behavioral health supports in schools and school districts throughout Alameda County.

ACBH provides SBBH services in nearly 200 schools throughout Alameda County in partnership with their Provider Network.

ACBH contracts with approximately 18 community organizations to provide SBBH services and Educationally Related Mental Health (ERMHS) services to children and youth in the school system and other community providers.

By being present and available at the school site, school-based providers can serve youth and families, and positively impact the school climate and environment in partnership with students, family and staff.
School Based Behavioral Health (SBBH)

Our shared model for a school-based behavioral health system is focused on enhancing youth health, wellness and readiness to engage in learning.

Alameda County Behavioral Health (ACBH) is part of a larger Managed Health Care plan that provides health care services to youth and their families who meet service criteria. One of the ways to provide these services and make them accessible to families is to provide support in schools. School Based Behavioral Health Services partnerships between ACBH, the ACBH Provider Network, and School Districts within Alameda County.

- SBBH programs are designed to include clinical staff co-located on campuses to provide on-site mental health treatment and interventions to students that have Medi-Cal as their health insurance.
- SBBH Programs are staffed with internal ACBH clinicians however, most clinical teams are from ACBH contracted Community Based Organizations.
- Interventions may include classroom observations, mental health consultation to school faculty and staff, and student psycho-educational groups to address school climate needs and family collateral groups to support parents, guardians and caregivers of the clients in addressing the youth’s mental health needs.
- Restorative Justice practice models are encouraged. Providers will participate in Coordination of Service Teams (COST) to determine along with school staff and school supports, what the best resource(s) would be to meet the needs of a particular student(s).
