End of the Eviction Moratorium

Jennifer Pearce

End of the Alameda County Eviction Moratorium

April 11, 2023

ALAMEDA COUNTY HEALTH CARE SERVICES AGENCY
PUBLIC HEALTH DEPARTMENT

Consequences of an Eviction

"The evidence strongly indicates that eviction is not just a condition of poverty, it is a cause of it."

- Eviction Lab, Princeton University

- Rates of homelessness can increase dramatically.
- Child custody loss, school disruption, mental health effects.
- Job loss due to relocation from a community or increased commute.
- An eviction can stay on a tenant's record for up to 7 years.
- Broader neighborhood effects such as increased crime and loss of unified community. Gentrification is exacerbated significantly.
- The racial implications of evictions are clear; Black and Hispanic female renters were sued for eviction at double the rate of white renters in San Francisco.

Eviction Moratorium ends on 4/29/23

- Rent is due on May 1 and if not paid, landlord may serve tenant with a 3-day notice to pay or quit
- Outstanding rent from the County eviction moratorium period is not cause for an eviction notice and tenants may not be evicted for this lost rent.
  - So long as the tenant responds to the court
- County eviction moratorium strongly encourages tenants and landlords to negotiate a settlement, but does not require it.

Eviction Moratorium ends on 4/29/23

Landlords may evict tenants for any lease violation that occurred during the eviction moratorium – other than non payment of rent

- Common Lease Violations reported by Landlords to BOS:
  - Not granting access to the property for landlord when requested
  - Moving a new tenant in (subletting) without permission of the landlord
  - Destruction of property by tenant
  - Property modifications without permission
  - Harassing or violent behavior towards landlord or other tenants

Landlords may file eviction notice in court for any of these violations that occurred at any time during the EM and Courts will begin to hear them after 4/29.

California Eviction Process is Complicated

UNLAWFUL DETAINER PROCEDURES & TIME DIAGRAM

<https://selfhelp.courts.ca.gov/eviction-landlord>

Critical Timeframe

If served an Unlawful Detainer at Court – tenants have only 5 days to respond or lose all rights. This is where legal consultation is critical

Importance of Tenant Rights Education.....

If tenants don't know to respond....

- Even if they are protected by the eviction moratorium
- Even if they have not violated their lease
- Even if the rent increase is unlawful
- Even if the habitability issue is egregious

*Tenants lose because they did not file a response in court within 5 days and are at high risk for homelessness

How does an Unlawful Detainer Affect a Tenant?

- Being evicted does not erase any money owed.
  - Judge will generally award the landlord a judgment against the tenant for the amount of back owed rent, plus court and other collection costs.
  - Landlord may then attach future wages until repaid further reducing a low-income tenant's income.
- Background checks for future rental applications.
  - Credit reports may list the unlawful detainer for 7 years, and almost always list a Judgement of money owed.
  - Public court records exist
  - Reference checks – new landlords may contact old landlords
  - Landlord databases exist where landlords red flag tenants

Is my eviction notice legal? Do I need to move out?

All eviction notices have to be written and properly served on tenants to be legal. Also, landlords have to go through the court process to evict tenants, and tenants have the right to fight the case. If you are a tenant, landlords cannot simply change the locks or tell you that you have to leave. That is not a legal eviction.

If you receive a verbal eviction threat from your landlord, or a written eviction notice, or your landlord wants you to sign an agreement and you are not sure if you should sign it, please contact a legal services provider to apply for assistance and advice about your options before you sign anything or decide to move out.

EVICTIION PROCESS STEPS

1) NOTICE

The eviction process begins with the tenant receiving a 3/15/30/60/90 Day written notice of eviction.

2) SUMMONS AND COMPLAINT

Next, tenant will receive important court documents announcing eviction process. You must respond by filing an Answer with the court within 5 court days.

How do legal services help?

Research shows that legal representation can radically change the outcome of eviction cases, by decreasing rates of default judgments, preventing displacement through eviction, and limiting the collateral damage caused by eviction.*

Tenant attorneys can:

- Negotiate before the court case
- Draw up settlement plans
- Negotiate safe exits
- Retain the tenant's housing subsidy
- Have the case sealed from public view, or have the tenant's credit otherwise protected

*Stour Risius Ross, LLC, The Economic Impact of an Eviction Right to Counsel in Baltimore 23 (May 8, 2020), <https://bmorerentersunited.org/rtc/stoutreport/>

How Flexible Financial Assistance Helps

- When provided in tandem with legal services, rental assistance that covers back-owed rent can be used to ensure that tenants have more time to move out and leave a tenancy without being indebted to their former landlord.
- These conditions are needed to help displaced tenants transition to new housing and avoid homelessness.

11% of Californians are behind in Rent

Rent debt remains at crisis levels, placing millions of renters at risk of eviction.

Renter Households Behind on Rent

United States | California

Compared to the national average of 15%.

Evictions and Homelessness

In 2022, 41% of first-time homeless survey respondents said they lost housing where they were on a lease

---

More than 4,000 people entered homelessness in FY 21-22

---

Health conditions, mortality, incarceration, substance use, and serious mental illness rates all increase dramatically once a person loses their housing

State Policy Update

- State mask requirements in high-risk settings ended 4/3
- Remaining state vaccine requirements were lifted 4/3
- Negative test no longer needed for ending isolation after 5 days
- CalOSHA rules for employers and state licensing rules for facilities still apply

Alameda County Policy Update

- We continue to require skilled nursing facility (SNF) staff to mask in resident care areas
  - 29% of Alameda County COVID-19 deaths were associated with this setting and booster vaccine uptake has been slow at many facilities
  - Caution is warranted as other requirements and resources are sunsetting
  - Several neighboring jurisdictions have similar requirements
  - The policy will be reassessed monthly
- We continue to align with State mask policy for all other settings
  - In general, COVID policy has moved from requirements to recommendations as population immunity and clinical outcomes have improved

Federal Emergency Update

- US Congress voted to end the US National Emergency Declaration
  - President signed legislation
  - Declaration was originally slated to end May 11
  - No major regulatory changes expected from this action
- Federal Public Health Emergency is separate
  - Many major regulatory waivers tied to the Public Health Emergency
  - Still expected to end May 11

What can residents do about COVID-19 and other respiratory viruses?

- Stay home when sick
- Stay up-to-date on vaccinations
- Keep gatherings smaller and outside or well-ventilated
- Wear masks
- Wash hands often
- Test for COVID-19 if sick
- Have a plan to get treatment
