

COVID-19 Vaccination Instructions for Family Caregivers

On February 5, 2021, the California Department of Developmental Services (DDS) and the California Department of Public Health (CDPH) determined that family caregivers for individuals with certain disabling conditions should be considered healthcare workers eligible for COVID-19 vaccination in Phase 1a.

Family caregivers are eligible if they provided care to a person of any age that has a disabling condition that increases risk for severe COVID-19 infection and requires routine, hands-on care that cannot be delivered in a socially distanced manner. DDS and CDPH specifically call out the following conditions:

- Cerebral palsy
- Down Syndrome
- Epilepsy
- Specialized health care needs, including dependence upon ventilators, oxygen, and other technology

Family members within the same household who do not provide direct care are not eligible for vaccination. Eligible family members must get documentation from the Regional Center of The East Bay or from a qualified provider (see list below) that verifies both the condition of the family member who is being cared for and the caregiver's status as a health care worker.

Step-By-Step Guide

1. If your disabled family member is a client of the Regional Center of The East Bay (RCEB), request a letter from your family member's RCEB case manager that verifies your eligibility for vaccination.

OR

Obtain an Attestation Letter for the qualifying condition of the family member you are caring for from a qualified healthcare provider. View the County's Attestation Letter template that can be found at <https://bit.ly/2ZtQ1rQ> and here. The attestation letter can be signed by the following qualified providers, including but not limited to:

- Physicians (MD or DO)
- Nurse Practitioners
- Registered Nurses
- Public Health Nurses (RN or PHN)
